

OL' STUMPY

Ol' Stumpy is our premium blend of traditional bittersweet, bittersharp, and American heirloom apples. This dry cider is assertive, tannic and rich. Aged on oak and then cellared for over a year we blend for a mellow, classic taste. The apple blossom springing from a long neglected tree stump is emblematic of the revival of traditional ciders across America. Ol' Stumpy is a style that many of us in the new craft cider movement aspire to make and we've committed by planting these classic cider apple varieties in our orchard on Colorado's Western Slope. Enjoy!

That's a Fact: Traditional cider apples (sometimes known as "spitters") make for unpleasant eating, but exceptional cider. Not for your apple pie either!

A Growing Interest: To get our own-in-state supply of these traditional apples, in spring of 2013 we planted 1,000 bittersweet apple trees in our orchard on the Western Slope. In 2014 we planted 2,000 additional trees.
